ANGRY NEGROES MAY WIPE OUT TOWN; TROOPS SENT

Furious Race War at Wabash, Miss., and Situation is Critical.

Meridian, Miss., Dec. 25.—Early today it was reported that a body of negroes had fortified themselves two miles from Wabash, and announced they will resist any effort to dislodge them. They threaten to burn the little town and the white people are alarmed. The whites all around the country have armed themselves and one party of fifty armed persons have arrived there from Columbus, Miss. Two negroes, Tom and Jim Simpson, are reported to have been killed by white people yesterday afternoon before the arrival of troops under Command of Colonel Samuel McCants. At 1:30 o'clock this morning firing was heard in the center of the town, but after a few scattering shots, quiet was restored, and no explanation has been forthcoming. Leland Sparkman, a white man, was wounded by the accidental discharge of a pistol about the time of the other shooting. Colonel McCants announces that he will place a gatling gun in position and use it if necessary.

A WOMAN'S BLOOMERS CAUSE PASTOR LOSING HIS CHARGE

Deacon's Wife Resents a Pastor's Reproof for Wearing Bifurcates

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 25.—After a session at which both sides were heard the presbytery of Indianapolis yesterday voted that the pastoral relations of the Rev. A. W. Sonne with the First Presbyterian church of Greencastle should be severed. Trouble began in the church some weeks ago when the pastor and his wife called at the residence of Deacon Cammack and were greeted at the door by Mrs. Cammack, who was dressed in bloomers, which she wears while working with her flowers. The Rev. Mr. Sonne was shocked greatly and reproved her for wearing such a garb. Both Mrs. Cammack and her husband resented the pastor's reproof. Other members took sides. A congregational meeting followed, at which charges were preferred against the minister, but the congregation by a majority of two decided in his favor. The matter was brought to the presbytery on appeal.

SMOOTH STRANGER SHORT CHANGED A CASHIER

He Bought Shoe Strings and Worked a Game of Ancient Vintage.

When the young lady who has charge of the cash at Thins's Shoe store tried to balance accounts last night she found she had been handed the old short change racket to the tune of $9.70 and the matter was reported to the police for investigation. The artist came in during the rush of trade in the afternoon and bought 30 cents worth of shoe laces for which he tendered a twenty dollar bill. He was given the correct change and as he started out he found a dollar in his pocket, and as he did not want to take the change he asked for his twenty back. He created a little confusion and wound up by returning $10 of the change which had been given him and with profuse apologies for the trouble he had caused he walked out nine seventy to the good.

INDIANA BANK CHIEF IS NOW CHARGED WITH EMBEZZLEMENT

W. H. Roney, Prominent Noblesville Man, is Under Arrest.

Noblesville, Ind., Dec. 25.—William H. Roney, publisher of the Noblesville Times and former president of the private bank at Cicero, this county, was arrested yesterday on a charge of embezzlement and was placed under bonds for $5,000. The Roney bank was sold two weeks ago and soon after the sale the Farmers and Merchants' bank, which was the purchaser, placed experts at work on the books. It is claimed that Roney took $4,147 from the bank without authority and appropriated it to his own use. In a suit filed yesterday it is charged that the Cicero bank was a partnership concern, and that the four partners gave notes aggregating $4,000 as the capital stock. Only one of these notes was paid, it is alleged, and Roney is charged with taking this money also.

TWO KILLED BY A TRAIN.

Brothers Meet Death While Carrying Christmas Presents.

Schoolcraft, Mich., Dec. 25.—William and Henry Munger, brothers, aged 37 years, were run down and killed last night by a Grand Trunk freight train while walking along the tracks from Vicksburg with their arms filled with Christmas presents that they were taking home. A strong wind was blowing and they apparently did not hear the approach of the train, although the engineer saw them and blew his whistle.

CHRISTMAS CHEER IN FORT WAYNE IS GENERAL

City is Observing Holiday in Old Time-Honored Fashion.

Busy Santa Claus.
The merry old gentleman with the chin whiskers and the flowing mustache certainly hiked around some in Fort Wayne last night. He probably reduced weight considerably as he whisked from one chimney to the other and up the registers in the flats. For there was scarcely a house this morning from which the twinkling lights of candles on Christmas trees did not gleam. The customary "ohs" and "ahs" and "Aint that fine?" were wrung from the children by the grandeur of the displays and the annual holiday opened auspiciously.

All over the city the spirit of Christmas prevails. The stores, almost without exception, are closed. The court house and the city hall have put up their shutters and even the drug stores suspended operations at noon. Scarcely anyone, except the early church goers, were on the streets during the early morning hours. As the day progressed people began scurrying to fill dinner engagements. At the theaters there will be performances both this afternoon and this evening. Several private dances, as well as numerous parties, are scheduled for this evening. At several of the churches the Sunday schools will give entertainments this evening, and Christmas services were held in many of them this morning.

This afternoon at St. Vincent's orphan's home there will be an entertainment for the children and this morning Santa Claus presented each one of the children with a present. Tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 there will be another entertainment. At the Reformed and Allen county homes there was also a special celebration of the day.

Sheriff Grice was the host at a spread for his guests today that was greatly enjoyed. On the menu were many of the dainties that are usually found in connection with Christmas.

Newsboys Will See "Texas."
The annual Christmas treat of Manager M. E. Rice, of the Majestic Theater, to the newsboys of Fort Wayne will be given tomorrow evening when all the boys in the city that sell newspapers will be his guests at the performance of "Texas." Mr. Rice once sold papers himself and he has always had a kindly feeling for the young Americans that make their living in this way.

The newsboys are also taking up a collection for Albert Hannigan, one of their number, who sustained a fracture of the skull by falling down an elevator shaft in the Mossman-Yarnelle building the other day. The young man is still at the hospital but is reported to be improving.

Alfred George and Harold Meyers, of South Bend, are in the city visiting Walter George.

"SOO" ROAD IS SCORED FOR DISASTER AT ENDERLIN

Coroner's Jury Says It Was Caused by Inexperienced Employees.

St. Paul, Dec. 25.—The coroner's jury returned a verdict yesterday afternoon severely censuring the "Soo" road for the wreck at Enderlin, N. D., holding it negligent for placing inexperienced men in positions where their failure to properly perform their duties resulted in the loss of life. The freight crew was held directly responsible for the accident. It came out during the inquest that James Walsh, the flagman, had been in the employ of the road only three weeks, but that he had flagged trains before. Walsh testified that he had been sent on ahead of the switch engine for half a mile to flag the passenger train, and that he not only placed torpedoes on the track, but signaled the passenger train with his lantern. No attention was paid to his lantern, and he could not say whether or not the torpedoes exploded.

Reports from Enderlin, N. D., make the number of killed nine, as given last night, and the total injured as forty-five, twenty-four of whom are classified as dangerously hurt. It is impossible to learn the extent of the injuries to these victims, because of the attitude of the railroad officials, who refuse to give out information. It was reported late yesterday afternoon that two of the injured had died, making the total fatalities eleven, but this report was denied later.

D. J. Beresford, whose name appears among those killed, is believed to be Delavel James Beresford, cousin of Admiral Lord Charles Beresford, of the British navy. Beresford owned large interests in Medicine Hat and in Mexico. He was about 45 years old and unmarried.

FIVE HUNDRED HORSES AND MULES PERISH IN A BLAZE

Fire at Atlanta Result of the Operations of Safe-Blowers.

Atlanta, Ga., Dec. 25.—Five hundred horses and mules were burned in Harper Brothers' livery stable this morning. The loss is about $100,000. The fire was started by safe blowers, who blew the safe in the office, the shock of the explosion overturning a lamp.

FIRE AT INDIANAPOLIS.

Indianapolis, Dec. 25.—Fire started early this morning in the rear of Whites restaurant on South Meridian street and caused an approximate loss of $15,000. Less than three weeks ago there was a $65,000 loss in the same district. Frank Ahrens, proprietor of the Bismark cafe, suffered the principal loss.

DAY AT WHITE HOUSE WAS MARKED BY SIMPLICITY

President's Family Gathers and Bestows Christmas Gifts.

Washington, Dec. 25.—As has been the custom in the past, simplicity everywhere surrounded the events at the white house today. The president was an early riser and transacted considerable business. The presents were many and beautiful. Early in the morning the entire family, including Representative and Mrs. Longworth, assembled up stairs and the gifts were passed around. A large tree was on conspicuous exhibition. Tonight at 8 o'clock the family will eat their Christmas dinner.

Vice President and Mrs. Fairbanks spent the day quietly in their home as did the various cabinet members and their families.

A Christmas tree was delivered at the white house yesterday by an express company, but the sender had neglected to pay the charges and the clerks at the executive offices declined to receive it. The tree was carried away, and presumably it will be returned to the person who sent it.

TO SCATTER HUSBAND'S ASHES OVER SHRUB ON THE LAWN

Unique Disposition of Remains of Man Cremated in Fort Wayne.

The ashes of George Kimmell, of Wabash, whose remains were incinerated in the crematory at Lindenwood cemetery in this city last Saturday afternoon, are to be disposed of in unique fashion. They will be scattered over a shrub planted on the lawn of the Kimmell home at Wabash.

This duty is to be performed by the widow in compliance with a request made by her husband. Kimmell died on Thursday after a very brief illness. Before his death he declared that he wished a shrub now growing on the lawn to represent him after he had departed from earth, and he exacted from the wife a promise that his remains should be cremated and his ashes strewn about the shrub. The shrub is to be cared for by the widow as having sprung from the ashes of her husband. Mrs. Kimmell is now complying with the solemn duty imposed by the promise to her husband.

Four Missouri Men on Road Three Days With Birds.

Montgomery, Mo., Dec. 25.—Four men drove 500 turkeys from Marling, Mo., to Wellsville, this county, which is noted for the high prices paid for poultry. They were on the road three days with the live birds.

BURT HOUSE AT DECATUR IS DESTROYED BY FLAMES

City's Leading Hotel Burns to Ground, But Guests Escape Safely.

(Special to The Sentinel.)
Decatur, Ind., Dec. 25.—Fire that broke out at 11:30 o'clock last night in a room on the second floor of the Burt house, the leading hotel of this city, entirely destroyed the building with its contents and caused a loss that is estimated at from $20,000 to $25,000.

The hotel property belonged to parties living at Paris, Ill., and was insured for $12,000 while the furnishings, recently put in, belonged to Enos Peoples who carried insurance to the amount of $5,500. For a time the entire business portion of the city was threatened but by 2 o'clock this morning the flames were under control.

Guests Make Escape.

The hotel was full of guests but the fire was discovered a few minutes after it started and as it burned slowly most of them got out with their belongings, although the majority were badly frightened. L. C. Waring, proprietor of the mitten factory here, was in the hotel office when the alarm was given and went to his room to get his clothes. As he tried to return the dense smoke shut him off and he jumped from a window to the roof of a low building and reached the ground by means of a telegraph pole.

He was cut slightly over one of his eyes. One of the Westinghouse Electric company's employees jumped over a railing the distance of a flight of stairs and was badly shaken up but not injured seriously. A gas jet was burning in the room in which the fire started and to this the origin is attributed. The building covered about a quarter of a block and the walls are all down today.

Department Was Handicapped.

For the reason that the hose and water plugs were frozen and hard to get into action the volunteer department was handicapped and some time elapsed before a stream was turned on the flames. About 3 o'clock this morning the water supply failed entirely but by that time the flames were under entire control and there was no further spread.

Early accounts of the conflagration were grossly exaggerated and reports were sent out to the effect that the whole town would be wiped out but this was due to the intense excitement that attended the big blaze.

An old frame building that stood six feet from the burning hotel and in which an implement store was conducted did not catch fire, although it was believed it was doomed and the stock was removed. The only loss except the building was on the news and cigar stand, but the proprietor saved most of his stock.

ESTIMATE OF LOSSES.

Decatur, Ind., Dec. 25.—The Burt hotel building was valued at $25,000, insurance $10,000. The hotel effects,

EIGHTEEN INJURED IN CHRISTMAS CRASH ON BIG FOUR

Passenger Train Hits Rear End of a Freight at Springfield, O.

Springfield, O., Dec. 25.—East bound Big Four passenger train due here at 8:15 a. m., today ran into the rear of freight train No. 96 in the western part of the city. The list of injured includes eighteen passengers, none dangerously. The crew of the passenger train jumped.

The most seriously injured are: Miss Alice King, Borsham, O., cut about face. Susie Kallier, Osborne, O., back injured and cut about face. Mrs. Mary Richmond, Osborne, O., hurt about legs.

Three freight cars were demolished and the engine of the passenger train was slightly damaged. The engineer of the passenger engine says the brakes failed to work.

ELECTRIC SHOCK KILLS AT NEW POWER STATION

A. B. Koller, Skilled Electrician, Grasps Live Wire and Dies.

Andrew B. Koller, one of the expert electricians sent here by the Westinghouse Electric company to aid in the installation of the new power plant of the Fort Wayne and Wabash Valley Traction company on Spy Run avenue, met instant death while at work Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock as the result of receiving a heavy voltage of electricity through a wire that became charged as it left the hands of M. J. Kehoe, superintendent of motive power, who was working with him.

The two men were making some tests in the switchboard gallery and Mr. Kehoe had in his hand the wire that became charged and had barely let go of it when his companion fell to the floor. He disengaged the hand of the dead man and called assistance and every means of resuscitating Koller was resorted to but proved unavailing, and the coroner was called. The wire was charged with approximately 12,000 volts.

Cannot Account for it.
In his testimony before the coroner this morning and in a subsequent talk with a representative of The Sentinel, Mr. Kehoe stated that he had no idea where the current came from and that it was not on the wire when he disengaged the hand of Koller.

There had been a short circuit between the new power house and the junction with the high tension wires of the company's interurban line and the current could not be transmitted. This morning a piece of bale

Public and Private Charity Brings Christmas Joys to Thousands of New York's Dependent Children.

SANTA CAUSE IN A HOME FOR CRIPPLED CHILDREN

New York, Dec. 25.—One of the prettiest sights in the world can be seen in this city on Christmas, when thousands of children dependent upon charity will enjoy Christmas offerings contributed by the generous. Turkey dinners, toys, Christmas trees, flowers, candy and everything else that is calculated to bring happiness to the hearts of the little ones have been provided.

The Christmas scenes in the great institutions supported by this city government or by private contributions are without a parallel, perhaps in the world. Toys who have never known the loving touch of a father's or mother's hand, but who have lived their few short years amid whitewashed walls and iron bedsteads, are given a taste of home life which could not be presented to them in any other way in their situation.

Those who are old enough to realize what the annual event means have spent weeks discussing Christmas time and the joys it brings them. Never a year goes by but every child supported by charity in the various homes throughout the city receives something which gladdens the monotony of their young lives and helps them to forget their loneliness.

Each home and institution has its own peculiar way of looking after its inmates. On the east side the Salvation Army and other charitable organizations set out long tables, which seat hundreds at a time. Piled high before them, the children gaze on a bewildering array of sweetmeats and nourishing edibles, which leave them for a moment speechless with delight. Their fancies and hopes are realized or more than fulfilled, and finally, when their feelings give way, there is an outburst of chattering and little screams of pleasure and a buzz of gratification which should make the most hardened heart soften.

TYPICAL EAST SIDE CHRISTMAS DINNER

In the homes of crippled children pathetic sights are seen. Bright faces are everywhere, but their owners carry frail bodies, broken by deformity. The sad sight of a little child hobbling across the ward is ameliorated somewhat, however, when it is seen that the little sufferer has forgotten its physical disability in the joy of a new toy or something else appropriate. The great blessing of forgetfulness of pain and torture is seldom experienced by the children so much as on Christmas day, and the greater the charity the longer does this last after the day has become but a memory.

Difficult Breathing

Short breath, fluttering, palpitation, sinking spells are symptoms of a weak heart, struggling to do its work. It must keep the blood in circulation to carry nourishment to make flesh, bone and muscle, and remove the worn-out particles. When it cannot do this, it must have help. Dr. Miles' Heart Cure gives strength to the heart nerves and muscles, and increases the heart action.

"I am glad to say that I am so much improved in health. Dr. Miles' Heart Cure cured me when several doctors failed. I think no other medicine could do for me what Heart Cure has done. My case was bad; had as it could be at times. I had difficulty in getting my breath, my heart beat so fast at times that I thought it impossible to live without relief. The pain was very severe in my left side, and my nerves were all unstrung. I had almost given up all hope of being cured, and I am sure I would not, if I had not taken the Heart Cure. I feel the great pleasure in recommending Dr. Miles' remedies to all who suffer with heart disease."

OLD KENTUCKY FEUD IS TRANSFERRED TO INDIANA

Murphy and Finnerty Clans Are Now Warring at Muncie.

Muncie, Ind., Dec. 25.—Miss Amanda Murphy, known to the police courts for her frequent outbreaks in connection with the locally famous Finnerty-Murphy feud, which was transplanted here from the hills of Kentucky, admitted when arrested late a day or two ago, that she had shot four times at Mrs. Bessie Trimble, a neighbor, and said the next time she used a revolver she would take better aim that she might not waste so much ammunition.

Miss Murphy, in custody, made many accusations against various persons, who, she said, were intent on taking her life. She accused a local newspaper reporter with trying to coerce members of the South Side Athletic club into killing her in order that he might have a lively news item for his paper.

In spite of her actions Miss Murphy was merely charged with assault and was told to appear for trial next Thursday afternoon, which she promised to do "if alive," her theory being that by that time her enemies will have caused her death.

Not a Good Marksman.

Mrs. Trimble, who lives next door to the Murphys, says that as she stepped out of her rear door Miss Murphy opened fire on her, all the shots going wild, but causing her to beat a hasty retreat indoors.

Miss Murphy made further accusations against the old-time enemies of her family, the Finnertys, who, she says, followed her and her relatives here from Kentucky. The feud in Kentucky resulted in many assassinations, she said, and she fears for her life here. The old feud seems to have thrived well in Indiana soil, but thus far there have been no fatalities.

Miss Murphy says the late Governor Goebel, of Kentucky, was her attorney for years previous to his assassination.

IOWA MAN'S IDEA WOULD THROW STATESMEN OUT OF A JOB

Wants Commission to Make Laws Instead of Legislatures.

Webster City, Iowa, Dec. 25.—

"Abolish the state legislature, elect a commission of fifteen or twenty men which could meet, not once in two years but whenever occasion demanded, with the attorney general and governor to make the laws."

Such is the course advocated by C. S. Brykitt, formerly deputy secretary of state. Brykitt does not expect soon to see his idea put into actual practice, but he seeks to sustain his contention that it would be better than the present means by many arguments. He calls the present method of making laws cumbersome and unwieldy. It is necessary now, says Brykitt, to run a long gauntlet before a law can be passed.

Complaints of Red Tape. "Suppose you are interested in a bill," says Brykitt. "You must appear before a committee of the house. This committee is composed of as many men as would compose any entire commission. After you have won that committee you must win the house. Then you have to win the senate committee and then the senate itself."

"By the time your bill has gone through these four channels it is probably, emasculated beyond all recognition and you are no longer in favor of it yourself. After passing the house committee and house, the senate committee and senate, the bill then goes to the governor and he, too, has to be won over to favor it."

"A modest man shrinks from trying to work a bill through. If he does attempt it he can appear for it only in committee. On the floor of the house or senate he is not privileged to say a word for it."

Advantage in Economy. "Suppose there was a commission of fifteen or twenty men to make the laws. They could be in session whenever need be. An enormous expense of committee clerks and house and senate employees would be dispensed with. Anyone favoring a bill could meet with the commission, sit down to a table with them and go over the points in the bill in detail with them."

"Even the supreme court might be called in to pass upon the constitutionality of the law. Under the present system, after a bill goes through the process and becomes a law it takes usually several years for the courts to discover that it is constitutional."

How to Exercise the Bowels YOUR Intestines are lined inside with millions of suckers, that draw the Nutrition from food as it passes them. But, if the food passes too slowly, it decays before it gets through. Then the little suckers draw Poison from it instead of Nutrition. This Poison makes a Gas that injures your system more than the food should have nourished it. The usual remedy for this delayed passage (called Constipation) is to take a big dose of Castor Oil. This merely make slippery the passage for unloading the current-cargo. It does not help the Cause of delay a trifle. It does slacken the Bowel-Muscles, and weakens them for their next task. Another remedy is to take a strong "Physic," like Salts, Calomel, Jalap, Phosphate of Sodium, Aperient Water, or any of these mixed. What does the "Physic" do? It merely flushes-out the Bowels with a waste of Digestive Juice, set flowing into the Intestines through the tiny suckers. Cascarets are the only safe medicine for the bowels. They do not waste any precious fluid of the Bowels, as "Physics" do. They do not relax the Intestines by greasing them inside like Castor Oil or Glycerine. They simply stimulate the Bowel-Muscles to do their work naturally, comfortably, and nutritiously. They are put up in thin, flat, round-cornered Enamel boxes, so they can be carried in a man's vest pocket, or in a woman's purse, all the time, without bulk or trouble. The time to take a Cascaret is not only when you are Sick, but when you first suspect you need one. Price, 10c a box. Be very careful to get the genuine, made only by the Sterling Remedy Company and never sold in bulk. Every tablet stamped "COC." All druggists.

Do You Think
For Yourself?

Or do you open your mouth like a young bird and gulp down whatever food or medicine may be offered you?

Intelligent thinking woman. In need of relief from weakness, nervousness, pain and suffering, then it means much to you that there is one tried and true honest medicine or remedy composition, sold by druggists for the cure of women's ills.

The makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, for the cure of weak, nervous, run-down, overworked, debilitated, pain-racked women, knowing this medicine to be made up of ingredients, every one of which has the strongest possible endorsement of the leading and standard authorities of the several schools of practice, are perfectly willing, and in fact, are only too glad to print, as they do, the formula, or list of ingredients, of which it is composed, in plain English, on every bottle-wrapper.

The formula of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will bear the most critical examination of medical experts, for it contains no alcohol, narcotics, harmful, or habit-forming drugs, and no secret ingredients. It is not highly recommended by the most advanced and leading medical teachers and authorities of their several schools of practice. These authorities recommend the ingredients of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for the cure of exactly the same ailments for which this world-famed medicine is advised.

No other medicine for women's ills has any such professional endorsement as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has received, in the unqualified recommendation of each of its several ingredients by scores of leading medical men of all the schools of practice. Is such an endorsement not worthy of your consideration?

A booklet of ingredients, with numerous authoritative professional endorsements by the leading medical authorities of this country, will be mailed free to any one sending name and address with request for same. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

is cheer and happiness enough that all humanity may share generously in its abundance.

But deeper than this is the fact that Christmas day is the anniversary of the world's greatest birthday. It celebrates the birth of the Nazarene, whose coming was heralded on that first Christmas morning with the message of "peace on earth and good will toward men." From that time down to the present the day has been a growing power for the planting and propagation of a kindlier spirit among men, a more sympathetic human interest and a deeper consideration that lifts humanity to a higher plane. Its scope of influence is broad enough to include the whole human family, and the entire world shares to a greater or lesser degree in its refining power.

It is a day of cheer and all humanity is better and happier for its influence. The Sentinel begs to express the hope today that one and all may enjoy an abundant participation in the happiness and good cheer of the yuletide season.

January 12 next, bids will be opened at the office of the Panama canal commission, at Washington, for the most expensive construction contract ever undertaken or awarded, in fact it is held to be the greatest task of modern times. It is expected the bids will average in the neighborhood of $100,000,000. Under the terms of the contract the government furnishes all the permanent plants and most of the material. The contractor furnishes the men, the loose tools, and light machinery and does the work. The plan contemplates competition between several groups of contractors, each group composed of men who have achieved significant success in at least one of the several departments of construction involved in the present undertaking and whose combined experience covers the whole task. Bids from single firms or individuals are therefore discouraged. There is no doubt that there will be ample bidders backed with American genius and grit to carry out the work.

It is estimated that during the next year the salaries and wages which railroads will pay to their employees will be about 75 million dollars greater than this year. Part of this increase will be due to the larger number employed, but most of it will be due to the general raise in salaries and wages. Two powerful causes bid fair to more than make up to the railroads this extra outgo. They are an increase in business and the operation of the new interstate commerce law. The increase of business is a self-evident fact. It has produced throughout the country a car famine. The operations of the interstate commerce law are almost equally in evidence. The abolition of passes will increase the earnings of the passenger departments, and the cutting off of rebates to favored shippers, especially to trusts, will enormously increase the earnings of the freight departments. Thus railroad prosperity during 1907 would seem to be fairly well assured, not only from the employees' standpoint, but from the stockholders' standpoint as well.

Trusts were sometimes dealt with summarily in old England. For instance, the records of the Brewers' company show that "on Monday, July 30, 1422, Robert Chichele, the mayor of London, sent for the masters and twelve of the most worthy of our company to appear at the Guildhall for selling dear ale. After much dispute about the price and quantity of malt, wherein Whittington, the late mayor, declared that the brewers had ridden into the country and forestalled the malt to raise its price, they were convicted in the penalty of £20 ($100), which, objecting to, the masters were ordered to be kept in prison in the chamberlain's custody until they should pay it or find security for the payment thereof."

Representative Gaines, of Tennessee, who introduced a bill proposing to take $13.70 from a congressman's pay for each day absent, has learned that there is a law to fit the case. Section 40 of the revised statutes, provides that the secretary of the senate and the sergeant-at-arms of the house shall deduct from the pay of each member his per diem for each day of his absence for any excuse other than sickness of himself or of a member of his family. This law was passed in 1875, but it isn't in evidence that it has ever been enforced or that a single member in all the years has failed to pay it.

At this time he goes north, where he will make his visits a little, why then we won't get much information concerning the north pole itself.

The statement of a New York physician that a member of the 400 of that city has leprosy will cause great surprise unless he means that it is a case of moral rather than physical leprosy.

North Dakota is too much interested in getting coal in any way and at any price to care whether the railways give rebates or not.

GIVEN A TURKISH ROCKER.

Last evening Sheriff and Mrs. Grice were handsomely remembered by a number of friends. An elaborate Turkish rocker was presented to Mr. Grice and a grandfather clock was presented to Mrs. Grice. The sheriff last evening presented to his deputies, Detzer, Hugenard, Hughes, Hartel, Hattery and Pattee, large baskets containing bountiful Christmas dinners. In each basket, as one of the items, was a twenty pound turkey.

Saved From Threatened
Catarrh
of the Lungs
By Taking
Pe-ru-na!

MRS. MARY MAG.

Mrs. Mary Mag, 422 College Ave., E. Pittsburg, Pa., writes: "Last spring I had a very severe cold which settled on my lungs. I went to the doctor for some time, but his medicine did me no good. Having read in the paper some testimonials of the value of Peruna, I decided to try it, and at the same time wrote to Dr. Hartman for advice. I took five bottles of Peruna and am now entirely cured. Before taking Peruna I was so run down that I could do no work and could not stand on my feet. My head ached and I could not sleep—I would wake up and cough. In the morning, on rising, I would cough for at least ten minutes. I was alarmed. But, thanks to Peruna, I am now enjoying good health. I would not be without Peruna. I keep it in the house and give it to my little boy when he has a cold."

A NEGLECTED cold is generally the first cause of catarrh.

Women are especially liable to colds. These colds occur more frequently during the wet, sloppy weather of winter and spring than any other time of the year. Often they are not considered serious and so are allowed to run on, or they are treated in such a way as to only palliate the symptoms, while the cold becomes more deep-seated and the patient finally awakens to the fact that she has a well-developed case of catarrh.

By reason of their delicate structure the lungs are frequently the seat of a cold, especially if there is the slightest weakness of these organs. The treatment of catarrh of the lungs is also more difficult and discouraging than catarrh of any other organ of the body.

It would be wise, therefore, to guard against it by every precaution possible. Peruna has been found the most reliable of all remedies for coughs, colds and catarrh, by reason of the fact that it goes at once to the very seat of the trouble.

It searches out every crevice, every duct of the body. It quickens and equalizes the circulation of the blood, thus relieving the congested mucous membranes. It exercises a healing and soothing effect upon the mucous membranes, no matter whether they are the more exposed membranes of the head and throat, or whether they line the remotest cells of the lungs.

A word to the wise woman is sufficient. Take Peruna at the first appearance of a cold.

Menefee Artificial Stone Houses.

The accompanying illustration is that of the first artificial stone house built in Fort Wayne and was erected in 1904 by Mr. Chas. M. Menefee, head of the Menefee Artificial Stone Co. of this city. The house stands on Thomas street and is noted for its beauty of stone as well as of architecture. Since that time there has been a large number of cement stone houses built in this and other cities from the product of this company and the Menefee stone has won a reputation for durability, perfection of composition and beauty of coloring that is second to none in the United States.

Today there is fifty houses in Fort Wayne built from Menefee stone among which are the palatial residence of Mr. Wm. Greater, corner of Washington Boulevard, west and Jackson street; the handsome flat of Mr. John Dreibehris, 802-803 Webster street and a beautiful residence at the corner of Thomas and Pontiac streets. These are merely a few instances of the use of the stone which the readers in various parts of the city may be familiar with and there are numbers of other beautiful homes scattered all over the city that are noted for their fine appearance.

WE LAUNCH OUR SECOND

GREAT PRE-INVENTORY SALE

ON A SCALE THAT FAR ECLIPSES OUR LAST SEASON'S EFFORTS

YOU REMEMBER the tremendous success of our pre-inventory sale inaugurated a year ago? Well, this one will be BIGGER, BETTER, GREATER THAN EVER. Bigger because since then we have trebled our floor space—better because of our enlarged stocks, greater because of the enormous increase in business the past year, due to our great value-giving—which is proof conclusive that we have gained and hold the confidence of the buying public who will herald this announcement with great satisfaction. While not another store can equal our magnificent assortment, yet we are always close to the people's hearts, because our prices are founded on actual cost and not inflated on account of unusual beauty, style or timeliness.

We opened the Fall and Winter season with an exposition of styles that triumphantly anticipated Fashion's decree, and we now offer you the remaining stocks of beautiful wearing apparel at a ridiculous sacrifice to us. EVERY COAT, SUIT, SKIRT, WAIST, PETTICOAT, RAINCOAT, AND ALL FURS, FOR LADIES, MISSES, AND CHILDREN WILL BE SOLD REGARDLESS OF THE ORIGINAL COST OR VALUE.

Our policy is that all stocks must be fresh and new each season and we do not propose to carry over a single garment classed as winter apparel, therefore all stocks must be reduced to the minimum before taking inventory. Practically at the threshold of winter, you are the beneficiary of this bargain-giving event that gives you the opportunity to purchase high-class winter apparel at immense price concessions. Truly enormous will be the values in this

SOCIETY

A beautiful little home wedding took place at half past 10 o'clock this morning at the home of Mrs. Alice McGlellan, 1115 Cass street, when her daughter, Miss Jennie McGlellan, became the bride of Mr. Harry W. Herring, formerly of Philadelphia, but now located in this city. The Rev. J. F. Vichert performed the ceremony. There were no attendants. The bride wore a plum colored chiffon broadcloth suit with lingerie waist. The house was trimmed elaborately with holly, bells and Christmas greens and flowers. After the wedding breakfast the bride and groom left for Chicago to spend a week. The bride had been private secretary for the past three years to Superintendent A. E. Carroll, at the state institution. Mr. and Mrs. Herring will live at the home of the bride for the present.

A family reunion of today is being held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Beaver. The guests are Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Foster and Mr. Foster's mother, F. L. Beaver, of Chicago, H. C. Schroeder and family, G. L. Fox and family, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Gesseman, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Beaver, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Beaver, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Burnham.

The Phi Alpha Psi dance in Harker's hall last evening was a pretty fraternal affair, the guests being the alumni and friends of the active members of the society. Music and refreshments contributed to the pleasure of the company and the hall was prettily trimmed with fraternity banners. Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Worden, Mr. and Mrs. John Evans, Mr. and Mrs. Max Hofmann, Mr. and Mrs. James McKay and Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Orr and Dr. and Mrs. H. T. Sell were the older people interested, their sons being Phi Alpha Psi members.

Miss Grace Jackson, of Chicago, is in the city to spend the holidays with relatives.

Tabor Hamilton, of Buffalo, is the guest of his mother and sisters for a few days.

Miss Arlene Chapin, of Muncie, is spending Christmas with her parents, Judge and Mrs. Chapin.

Miss Elizabeth Summers, of Chicago, is visiting her mother, of Douglas avenue for the holidays.

Edwin Ball, of West Wayne street has as his guests, Messrs. Richard and Harry Ball, of Akron, O.

Mrs. E. A. Rocholl and daughter, Miss Anna, of South Hanna street, have returned from a month's visit in Indianapolis.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Glen, of Winchester, Ind., are visiting their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Glen, of 1006 Phillips street.

Mrs. Sam Wolf is entertaining her sister and brothers, Miss Cecelia Wertheimer and Abe and Leo Wertheimer, of Ligonier.

Miss Bertha Hoffman, of Pittsburgh, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Martin Detzer, of Spy Run avenue. Miss Hoffman is a cousin of Mrs. Detzer.

Miss Selma Chaska will leave the first of next week for Lansing, Mich., to attend the wedding of Miss Lillian Hirsch, a former resident of Fort Wayne.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dyer, of South Harrison street, have as guests Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rodabaugh, of Dayton, O., and Thomas Irwin, of Crestline.

Mrs. H. L. Foster and daughter, Jeannette, who have been visiting in Ohio, have returned home and have as their guest, Miss Edith Elliot, a niece of Mrs. Foster.

Mrs. Alvena Dyche has returned from a visit in Boston and has as her guest, Miss Hattie Dyche, who has recently returned from an extended trip to Europe and Australia.

Charles Armstrong, of Toledo, arrived in the city today to join his wife and baby at the home of Mrs. Armstrong's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Boria, of West Berry street.

Mervyn Pigeon entertained a few neighborhood playmates last evening and had a visit from Santa Claus, who scattered presents from a tree that he found standing in the parlor, as well as a few from his sack.

A family reunion is being held at the S. F. Swayne home on West Berry street today. Mr. and Mrs. James Swayne and son, of Paulding, Miss Rebecca Swayne, of Connersville and Misses Anna and Rhoda, of Bloomington, are all at home for Christmas.

Miss May Fitzpatrick entertained the children of her kindergarten class yesterday at a luncheon. The children first had a fine time with games, music and other entertainment. A little Christmas tree stood in the center of the table and at each plate was a make-believe apple that was filled with candy. Katherine and Mary Landy, Katherine, Jay and George DeWald, Tom and Middle Beuret, Bob Casey, Ruth and Helen Taylor and Jack Eggemann were the guests.

Auer-Kiesling. Miss Elsie Kiesling and Charles Auer were married at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the parsonage of Emmaus Lutheran church by Rev. Philip Wambagans. It had been intended to have the wedding in the church but preparations for Christmas decorating made it inconvenient. The attendants were a brother of the bridegroom and a cousin of the bride, Messrs. William Auer and Carl Kiesling. After the ceremony the bride and groom went to the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Kiesling, 1422 Broadway, where the wedding dinner was served.

BEAUTY WON BY PROPER BREATHING.

If you want to be fully developed, with an easy grace of motion that tells of the perfect control of every muscle, then take to rhythmic breathing. It will make a new woman of you. The hollows in your cheeks and your neck will fill up as if by magic. The increasing heaviness of your walk will disappear. You will acquire a complete command of your body.

Any flabbiness or angularity comes from breathing with only the upper part of one's lungs. Double chins and other deformities are due to the same causes.

A clever lady doctor advocates the corset, though she deprecates tight lacing, says Woman's Life. She believes the support helps to educate the muscles. Support where it is needed, no constriction, good food, plenty of fresh air and a complete understanding of how to breathe properly would result in something very nearly approaching absolute physical perfection.

—Buffet Luncheon—
Oysters in Chaudin Dish, Crackers.
White and Brown Bread.
Hot Grape Juice.

Cost of Principal Materials—Green goose (10 to 14 pounds at 15 cents per pound), $2.24; peas, 10 cents; salted materials, 38 cents; plum pudding, estimated, 50 cents; ice cream 55 cents; cake materials, 50 cents. Total, $14.47.

Note.—In the above scale of prices the estimate is given a little above the cost, or, at least, a liberal allowance is made for each item. The menu is characterized by simplicity and up-to-date, and one may also find the table without a sense of having eaten to repletion.

—Peas and Stuffing—Crumble very finely a small loaf of stale bread (white or granular), seven with a heaping teaspoon of butter, six shavings of parmesan; add one-fourth teaspoonful of sweet herbs, one and one-half cups of shelled, roasted peas, ground in a mortar, a few drops of onion juice, half a teaspoonful of minced parsley, and one-half cup (or more) of sweet cream to moisten slightly; blend thoroughly. The beauty of this salad is enhanced by slices of red tomatoes which are here omitted for obvious reasons.

—Potatoes Potatoes—Cut about one quart of balls from pared Irish potatoes, using a French vegetable spoon or scoop. They should be one inch in diameter. Boil in salted water, adding a cup of water (1 teaspoon salt to each quart of water), turn into a hot dish, and dress with two tablespoons of butter and one of cream, and a pinch of parsley (more salt may be added at discretion).

—Kris Kringle Salad—This is new and extremely pretty. Select the choicest heart leaves from two heads of lettuce and mound in the center of a round salad bowl. Sprinkle with a few drops of onion juice, half a teaspoonful of minced parsley, and one-half cup (or more) of sweet cream to moisten slightly; blend thoroughly. The beauty of this salad is enhanced by slices of red tomatoes which are here omitted for obvious reasons.

—1906 Plum Pudding—An excellent new rule, by Miss Greiner, has peculiarities which add to its value and loathsomeness. One cup of soft brown crumbs, a cup of half of chopped suet, some seeded raisins, one cup of sugar, two cups of flour, half a cup each of molasses, and a pinch of each of nutmeg, cinnamon, and salt. Fill a large mold with only half the mixture, and bake in a water bath for three hours. The apples give a softness to the pudding, which makes it keep a long time in good condition. Chopped figs may be substituted.

—Note.—When making the plum pudding it takes but a little longer to make two or more. The recipe makes a charming and festive Christmas gift, correctly wrapped and tied in holly, or the new gold or silver cord and a spray of holly attached. Individual puddings are also fine.

—Carrot Plum Pudding—This is an innovation by Mrs. Hill and some will prefer it to the foregoing for that reason. Either pudding is delicious, and not heavy or indigestible. Scrape and wash five or six medium-sized carrots, and grate through a fine sieve. Weigh one pound. Chop the one pound of beef suet. Mix the suet with half a pound of cleaned currants, some of sultana raisins, one-fourth a pound each of finely chopped figs and citron or candied orange peel, shaved fine, and one cup of sugar. Add the carrot, mixing thoroughly with the hand. Sift together one and one-half cups of sifted flour, one teaspoon of salt, two level teaspoons of baking powder, one teaspoon of nutmeg and mace or nutmeg, and one-half teaspoon of cloves. Mix all together thoroughly. Turn the mixture into a marble slab, and grate for four hours. Serve hot, with foamy sauce or wine sauce.

—Ice Cream Stars—For a concluding course, especially nice after the pudding, make one and one-half quarts of vanilla ice cream early in the day. When it is frozen loosen it all around the sides of the freezer, remove the dish, and pack it as hard as possible. At the last moment turn out the cream in a cold room—if possible, into a marble slab, and grate for four hours. Serve hot, with foamy sauce or wine sauce.

—Lady Baltimore Cake—Undoubtedly this cake is the most popular of any modern recipe, although it has been long and favorably known in the South. Any fibrous material, such as this soft, creamy cake, with its filling of chopped raisins, figs, nuts, cannot be imagined. To give it a Christmas aspect, decorate the frosting with half nut, grate and round, red candies the size of holly berries.

Smart Paris Fashions

SEALSKIN COAT TRIMMED WITH BRAID

Sealskin jackets elaborately trimmed with gumples and narrow braid are a novelty this winter, and though they are not as popular with smart women as many other furs, a jaunty short coat is considered stunning and more becoming to young ladies than even the pony wraps.

Such a jacket made with deep turn back cuffs that reach to the elbows and a turnover collar is strikingly pretty and most effective for youthful persons. Lined with a light colored silk or chiffon, this method is desirable for both afternoon and evening wear and would make a most acceptable Christmas gift.

Logansport, Ind., Dec. 25.—Squire Reid, of this city, widely known as the "merrying squire," has hit upon a novel scheme of increasing his business. As matters now stand the squire does a bigger business in the matrimonial market than all the ministers in the town together, but on and after Jan. 1, 1907, he will offer still greater inducements to prospective brides and bridegrooms.

Beginning with the new year the squire will present to each couple that he marries a small volume of poems, of which he is the author, dealing with subjects of matrimony and love. And not only this, but the ceremony will be said in verse. One of the important questions attending the wedding preparations in future will probably be whether the blushing young bride and bashful bridegroom prefer to be joined in limerick hexameter, anapestic tetrameter, or otherwise. In cases of elopement, with the rate father in close pursuit, it may be convenient to couple with couplets.

"Just for a sample," said the squire, "I'll say:

"Now by the power invested in me, whereby I hold office and yank down this fee,
I join you, Miss Jane Clematis, in wedlock to Ezekiel Brown by your side;
He takes you to wife and may both of you bide
In felicity, what-ever that is."
The volume will be off the press next week, and Squire Reid is very much enthused over the work.

"I know they'll like 'em," he declared today. "They'll hang the license on the wall and put the poems in the album, and between the two they'll never be able to forget the day they stood up in front of me and I married 'em."

Popcorn Made at Home for Christmas Trees and Dinners.
By Emma Pollock Telford.

Without popcorn, Christmas festivities would not be complete, for it may be used both as a 'decoration when fashioned into ropes and festoons, or as a 'sweet' for filling stockings.

As a dessert, when sweetened, it is most satisfying, and by the way it is especially popular this year served at meals with salt as a relish in soups or as a cereal with milk.

Popcorn Crisps.
Have ready a big pan of fresh popped corn, taking care that all the hard kernels are sifted out. Pow over the corn some hot taffy, then work lightly with the tips of your buttered fingers until all the kernels slightly adhere to each other. This can be moulded into balls, but is more delicious left loosely adhering.

To Pop Corn.
The best corn for popping is neither too old nor yet too green. Last fall's crop is in fine condition now. The best results are attained if corn is first placed under the faucet and thoroughly wet, then shaken dry and left on the back of the stove in the popper, moving it gently back and forth until the corn swells a little and becomes perfectly dry. Shake over a steady hot fire, when the grains will pop into great kernels, the texture being remarkably light and delicate. Empty the popper into a big tin pan, sprinkle lightly with salt and if desired pour over a half cup melted butter for every pan of corn. Shake and toss until every kernel is seasoned. For filling the little tarlatan stockings do not butter but lightly salt. These little stockings overcast with scarlet wool and gathered about the neck with the same, make a pretty addition to the Christmas tree or supplement the row of stockings hanging in the chimney corner.

Encourage Children to Believe in Santa Claus

That the belief in Santa Claus is an illusion of childhood that should not be dispelled because of any idea that it encourages faith in a deception and puts both parents and children in a false and insincere position is the opinion of many women who have given the subject much thought. Santa Claus is a delusion most boys and girls only half see through, and one they should be permitted to keep for they get bare, bald facts soon enough. There is an idealism about the Kris Kringle idea that is wholesome food for the imagination and something every boy and girl needs. Some people believe in Santa Claus after they know he is only a myth and if his illusion were taken absolutely from the lives of children it would leave their little lives more barren than is realized. The sentiment that comes in a belief in the Kris Kringle, the Saint Nicholas or old Santa Claus makes more for success in after life than any other one thing of imagination in child life. Nothing holds families together like the celebration of Christmas with a Christmas tree, happy children and merry hearts. Nothing is sadder than the being into whose life falls no cheer at this time of the year. Get with children and the saddest, most grief-laden man or woman will rouse from himself and be cheered by the happiness of innocent childhood. If you have no children of your own, go to the home of some friend who has, or select some waif and give him a dinner or visit an orphan asylum and take a half dozen little ones home with you to see a tree. Give them music and tell them stories. Don't think it merely necessary to feed them. Children don't want to be stuffed with candy and cake and ice cream. Have them romp and play until they are hungry and then give them wholesome food if you must feed their bodies. But above all, appeal to their imagination. Get them to watch for Santa Claus, to listen for his footsteps or to shut their eyes and travel with him across the continent in his long, long trip. It is not necessary to spend much except time and smiles. One does not need a long purse to make a child happy at Christmas time.

Artistic Decorations for Xmas Dinner Tables

Ornaments Simply Made by Combining Large Bunches of Grapes With Mistletoe—Little Red Gauze Stockings are Effective on White Cloth—Holly Used.

BY GRACE CAMPBELL MOORE.

Perhaps not everyone will want to discard holly when dressing the Christmas table, even though it is hackneyed, but if a most beautiful and unusual decoration is desired nothing will more fully meet these requirements than a combination of russet tinted green grapes and mistletoe. Buy large, perfect bunches and arrange as a centerpiece on a silver dish. Invisibly fasten the largest clusters to a chandelier over the table, if there is one, and twine the mistletoe there also. Only one who has seen the grapes and berry so used can realize how richly handsome this decoration is. If flowers are wanted on the table the best accompaniment to this peculiar color scheme is magnolia and white lilies in natural grass baskets. The latter will repeat the green and brown tones.

Holly is pretty used with pale green ribbons. Beginning at one corner of a square table or at a similar point on an oval one, lay down a flat, graceful bow of the ribbon and draw three radiations of ribbon out from beneath it. The central one will pass directly to the opposite corner and the other two can be spaced to suit the decorator's taste. Fasten sprays of holly in with the bow and sew small leaf clusters of it along the lengths of the ribbon. Each ribbon band terminates in sprays, but not as many should be used as are caught in with the first bow.

Another Form of Decoration.
Another use of the same decoration is to have two star shapes put together of strips of very narrow and thin wood. Cover these with the holly. One frame must be considerably larger than the other. The smaller must be proportioned to fit such a dolly a would be used for the centerpiece of the table in question and the larger star is laid outside of this one. From the points of the inner star arched strips, holly covered like the others, curve to a point above the center of the star and from this junction a crimson clipped paper bell hangs. A number of these bells, only smaller ones, are suspended in regular arrangement along each arch.

A simple and less expensive centerpiece in red and green is made by using smilax and any red berry on a small wire frame. Run a thick wire into the air for ten inches from a small wooden block, into which it is fastened. Make a small loop of it at the upper end. Through this hang another wire, which shall support two circles of wire, several inches apart, about the main support. Last of all wind the whole with smilax and catch in the berries. The result is more than pleasing.

Little red gauze stockings make an interesting trimming for the cloth used on a children's Christmas party table. Border the cloth with two rows of them. The last reaches just to the hem of it, and is made by sewing on the stockings in a vertical position and at even distances apart. Attach a tiny brass sleigh bell to the heel and toe of each one. A small space above arrange a band of the stockings set on in twos and place toe to toe. These are not put on vertically, but, at an angle, so as to leave a V shaped space between the two. The following couple is set so close to the former one that the top of the legs of this join the top of the legs of the first and following sets. Sew a bell to the top of the leg of each stocking in this row.

Red Candles and Candles.
Use red candles wreathed with green on the table, and let the center place be a red and green basket filled with red, white and green candles. Have the basket drawn by small tor reindeer in red ribbon harness. Little boxes for nut meats may be made by banding together four heads of Santa Claus cut from four Christmas cards that are all alike, and have on their heads sufficiently large for the purpose. For a pretty attraction to lay at each plate a notched leaf, with rather thick stem supporting three berries in cluster, can be cut out of cookies dough and colored with green, red and brown frostings to represent a bit of holly.

Popcorn Made at Home for Christmas Trees and Dinners.
By Emma Pollock Telford.

Without popcorn, Christmas festivities would not be complete, for it may be used both as a 'decoration when fashioned into ropes and festoons, or as a 'sweet' for filling stockings.

As a dessert, when sweetened, it is most satisfying, and by the way it is especially popular this year served at meals with salt as a relish in soups or as a cereal with milk.

Popcorn Crisps.
Have ready a big pan of fresh popped corn, taking care that all the hard kernels are sifted out. Pow over the corn some hot taffy, then work lightly with the tips of your buttered fingers until all the kernels slightly adhere to each other. This can be moulded into balls, but is more delicious left loosely adhering.

To Pop Corn.
The best corn for popping is neither too old nor yet too green. Last fall's crop is in fine condition now. VARIED HOLIDAY SCENES
HAVE PREVAILED IN
WHITE HOUSE*Not All Christmases Joyful in the Home of the Presidents.

Washington, Dec. 25.—Sunshine and shadows, happiness and misery have mingled together in the celebration of Christmas at the white house since the days of President Adams to the present. Not by any means were the Christmas holidays a season of joyous gladness for the inmates in every instance.

Mrs. John Adams, the first mistress of the white house, had an unpleasant Christmas. The great house was announced ready for occupancy, but when she reached it from Philadelphia she found not a single apartment finished; no fence, no yard, no convenience whatever. In November, 1800, she wrote to a friend that she had made a drying room for the family wash out of the "great unfinished audience room."

Thomas Jefferson's white house Christmases were truly on the "Jeffersonian style." He was a widower, with four daughters, the eldest of whom, Martha, presided at the white house during her father's second administration.

While James Madison served two full terms as president, he and his beautiful wife, "Dolly," did not spend all of these in the white house. In August, 1814, the British gave this section a little surprise party, sacking and burning the white house and other government buildings.

In Jackson's Time. The first Christmas dinner served after the French methods of cooking at the white house was given by Mrs. James Monroe in 1817. President Monroe insisted that the turkey be baked after the "Ole Virgin" style. Two daughters, Eliza and Maria, saw that the holidays were celebrated after the old style of the south.

Although it is a matter of history that in 1825 congress protested against a bill for billiard tables for the white house and declared billiard playing a species of gambling and "alarming to the religious, moral and reflecting portion of the community," there was anything but extravagance in the John Quincy Adams administration.

After the good old style of Tennessee President Andrew Jackson saw that Christmas was properly celebrated while he was in the white house. He was a widower of only a few months when he became president and calamities had embittered his life.

Marriage in White House. Four sons but no daughters aided in making Christmas merry at the white house during the administration of Martin Van Buren, and under the direction of Mrs. Angelica Van Buren, the president's daughter-in-law, the holidays were pleasantly passed. There was no white house Christmas for President William Henry Harrison. He lived but one short month after his inauguration and the office was assumed by Vice President John Tyler, of Virginia. Letitia Tyler, the president's first wife, enjoyed but one Christmas at the white house. She died in September, 1842, leaving several children.

President Polk had no children and a new era dawned at the white house when Mrs. Polk became the mistress thereof. She was puritanic in her taste and intolerant in her views. There was little entertaining beyond that demanded by official etiquette. Christmas was celebrated in the simplest manner possible.

The hero of the war with Mexico, Zachary Taylor, spent but one Christmas at the white house, but that one was pleasant for all inmates. President Taylor believed in good living and in extracting all the pleasure possible out of the holiday season. He died on July 9, 1850, having been in office a little more than one year.

Shadows in Mansion. Millard Fillmore, of New York, did not have a happy occupancy of the white house and each Christmas was filled with sadness. Three weeks after his accidental accession to the presidency his wife passed away and the next year his only child, a daughter, followed the mother.

Shadows and sadness went into the white house with Franklin Pierce. Three sons died in early youth and the fourth was killed in a railroad accident four months before the father was inaugurated president. Mrs. Pierce never recovered from the shock and was in feeble health during her four years as first lady. There was no happy Christmas for the heart-broken president and his good wife.

Though outwardly a happy man, perhaps the most wretchedly unhappy president was James Buchanan, of Pennsylvania, who was a bachelor because the mother of the young lady to whom he was engaged objected to the match and unholy falsehoods were circulated which caused breaking the engagement.

While the administration of Abraham Lincoln was the most momentous in the history of our government, the chief executive was never happier than when seeing the young enjoying themselves. His three Christmases at the white house were made even the more joyous by the fact that he took a leading hand in the festivities of the holidays.

Elaborate Celebrations. When Vice President Andrew Johnson took the oath as president he carried with him to the white house a beautiful wife and three young sons. He also had among his possessions the southern way of celebrating Christmas and there were lively times at the white house during the holidays.

a delicious dentifrice. Free from acid and grit. Just the thing for those who have an inclination for the niceties of every-day life. Ask your dentist.

During the two terms of President Grant Christmas was celebrated in the most elaborate manner at the white house. Mrs. Grant would not have thought it Christmas without the Christmas tree and the four children were permitted to invite their young friends.

President and Mrs. Hayes made a model home of the white house and the Christmas reunions were among the happiest events of the administration. There was an absence of Christmas cheer in liquid form, but nothing else was lacking from the holiday bill of fare to make the occasion entirely pleasant to intimates and friends.

James A. Garfield, the second president to die at the hands of an assassin, did not live to spend a Christmas at the white house.

Two children, a boy and a girl, went with their widowed father, Chester A. Arthur, to the white house when he became president. During Arthur's administration nearly every day was a holiday at the white house, but extra good times were ushered in during Christmas. President Arthur was an exceptionally liberal man and Santa Claus had about all he could do in the way of delivering presents.

Joy Now Reigns. As a crusty bachelor President Cleveland spent but one Christmas at the white house. Before the next yuletide the beautiful Frances Folsom had become the wife of the president and mistress of the white house. Then Christmas became really Christmas.

During both of Mr. Cleveland's administrations Santa Claus never failed to do his full duty and especially after the baby came. The president was not much of a make-merry man, but the fair young wife scattered the sweetest of Christmas cheer to all.

The death of Mrs. Caroline Harrison in 1892 cast a shadow over President Harrison and during the remainder of his administration he was a very unhappy man. The joyous Christmases were unknown to him.

Under the direction of that good and kindly man, William McKinley, Christmas at the white house during four years of his administration were all that could be wished for. With Mrs. McKinley it was seen that no one connected with the white house was neglected in the distribution of gifts; rich and poor were remembered alike.

The death-dealing bullet from the hands of an assassin caused a whole nation to bow in sorrow and there was no Christmas at the white house in 1901, when Vice President Roosevelt became chief executive.

The following Christmas, however, and each succeeding Christmas has found President Roosevelt taking a most active and joyous interest in promoting the happiness of not only his own children, but of their friends. He is the king bee at the Christmas tree, and there will be a big one this Christmas.

BRINGING MANY CHANGES TO THE NATIONAL
SENATE

This Winter's Election Will Retire Many of the Veterans.

Washington, Dec. 25.—Until after the state legislatures which are charged with choice of senators this winter shall have discharged that duty, there is likely to be noticeable absenteeism in the upper chamber.
This winter's elections to the senate will show an unusually large ratio of changes in the chamber. A multiplicity of reasons may be assigned. The muck-rakers have had something to do with the changes, but state political concerns relating to personal ambitions and factional advantages have had much more.

The terms of thirty senators will expire March 4 next, and of these it is assumed that eleven will not return. They are:
Republicans—Alger, of Michigan; Allee, of Delaware; Benson, of Kansas; Millard, of Nebraska—4.
Democrats—Berry, of Arkansas; Blackburn, of Kentucky; Carmack, of Tennessee; Clark, of Montana; DuBois, of Idaho; Gearin, of Oregon; Patterson, of Colorado—7.

Others Have Contests.
Then there are six other senators of the 1907 class who have fights on hand in their legislatures that are serious enough to leave some uncertainties, even at this late date, about their return. They are Bailey, of Texas, whose contest has attracted nationwide interest; Burnham, of New Hampshire, whose uncertainty of reelection relates to the fact that the anti-machine movement in New Hampshire has gained a powerful following in the legislature; Dooliver, of Iowa, whose opponents at home are trying to induce Governor Cummins to permit himself to be chosen senator; Dryden, of New Jersey, who must be re-elected in a legislature that is close and disaffected with him; Gamble, of South Dakota, whose enemies are again at work trying to beat him, despite the fact that the state convention declared for him and that most of the republicans in an overwhelmingly republican legislature are instructed for him, and Wetmore, of Rhode Island, in whose state, it is said, the old Aldrich organization wants to unhorse the junior senator and send a man who will be more satisfactory to the prevailing political interests.

Senators Assured Re-Election.
Senators who are assured of continuance, some of them already re-elected, are:
Republicans—Crandall, of Massachusetts; Cullom, of Illinois; Elkins, of West Virginia; Nelson, of Minnesota; Warren, of Wyoming—5.
Democrats—Bacon, of Georgia; Foster, of Louisiana; McLaurin, of Mississippi; Martin, of Virginia; Morgan, of Alabama; Simmons, of North Carolina; Tillman, of South Carolina—7.

The south is showing nowadays rather less reticence than the north about unloading senators of long service. Kentucky, for instance, has perpetrated a political tragedy in defeating both Blackburn and McCrory, veterans and men in the first rank of their party for ability and popularity. They are sacrificed in the determination of the Louisville and Nashville political interests to be restored to full domination of the state, Kentuckians say. Joe Blackburn and William E. Chandler might console together, for each was, to use the cheerful phrase in which Chandler announced his defeat in New Hampshire, "run over by a railroad."

North and South Differ.
Senator Berry, of Arkansas, was squarely beaten in his state after a senatorial service of twenty-two years. Tennessee turned out Carmack after a single senatorial term in which he had proven himself one of the strongest democrats in the senate. All these men are succeeded by democrats. The party simply exchanges experience and service for inexperience and the lack of it. The northern states do not do such things so easily.

The republican majority in the upper chamber will be stronger in numbers than will be of less advantage to it than will the democrats' loss of experienced men whose rank on committees gives them power and influence. In the senate everything goes by precedence. The man who has longest service to his credit is potent accordingly, because he is thereby entitled to committee places and opportunities. The north realizes this. Such veterans as Cullom, Allison, Frye, Hale, Foraker, Nelson and Spooner are not easily to be dislodged in a northern state.

Veterans Soon to Retire.
Disposition to reorganizing the personnel of the senate, however, is stronger than for a long time, taking a general view of the country. It will show decided results in the next session. There is furthermore a long list of veterans who will in the natural course retire before long. Thus it is positively stated in Iowa that Allison will not ask re-election two years hence, and the Wisconsin colony is developing a vigorous opinion that Senator Spooner will not again ask election. It is hardly possible that that fine old veteran, Henry M. Teller, can again be elected in Colorado two years hence, for the forces that have compassed the undoing of Tom Patterson have no more use for Teller, and besides the state is running decidedly republican nowadays.
Whether Platt, of New York, will resign after Governor Hughes is inaugurated is the subject of a deal of gossip. He is said to have promised to do so, but that statement is denied.

too. Apparently, as New Yorkers view it, the resignation will depend on whether the senator can get a say in determining who shall succeed him. The fact that President Roosevelt is understood to feel kindly toward the idea of becoming an Empire state senator after he leaves the presidency gives especial interest to all developments in state politics and in the moves of the senatorial board.

FOLLOWING THE FLAG.

When our soldiers went to Cuba and the Philippines, health was the most important consideration. Willis T. Morgan, retired commissary sergeant U. S. A., of Rural Route 1, Concord, N. H., says: "I was two years in Cuba and two years in the Philippines, and being subject to colds, I took Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which kept me in perfect health. And now, in New Hampshire, we find it the best medicine in the world for coughs, colds, bronchial troubles and all lung diseases." Guaranteed at Dreier & Bro's, druggists. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Workmen engaged in diverting a roadway at Welwyn, Herts, Wales, unearthed seven Roman urns in a good state of preservation, a Roman spur, two drinking bowls six inches high, one smaller cup, a bowl, some bronze plate, an iron standard and a small urn six inches high.

DEADLY SERPENT BITES

Are as common in India as are stomach and liver disorders with us. For the latter, however, there is a sure remedy: Electric Bitters, the great restorative medicine, of which S. A. Brown, of Bennettsville, S. C., says: "They restored my wife to perfect health, after years of suffering with dyspepsia and a chronically torpid liver." Electric Bitters cure chills and fever, malaria, biliousness, lame back, kidney troubles and bladder disorders. Sold on guarantee by Dreier & Bro., druggists. Price 50c.

"The elephant trunk," says Dr. Ray Lankester, "originated through a shortening of the lower jaw. Therefore I am sorry to upset Mr. Rudyard Kipling's explanation that the length of the trunk was accounted for by its having been pulled by the crocodile."

ASTHMA SUFFERERS SHOULD KNOW THIS.

Foley's Honey and Tar has cured many cases of asthma that were considered hopeless. Mrs. Adolph Euseg, 701 West Third street, Davenport, Iowa, writes: "A severe cold contracted twelve years ago was neglected until it finally grew into asthma. The best medical skill available could not give me more than temporary relief. Foley's Honey and Tar was recommended and one fifty cent bottle entirely cured me of asthma which had been growing on me for twelve years. If I had taken it at the start I would have been saved years of suffering." Dreier & Bro.

On the occasion of the last birthday anniversary of the King of Italy a letter carrier was remembered with an increase of pay. The man, whose name is Domenico Sicilia, has been in the service at Regliano for the last sixty years, is eighty years old, blind and still attends to his duties, with the assistance of a grandchild.

BILIOUSNESS AND CONSTIPATION.

For years I was troubled with biliousness and constipation, which made life miserable for me. My appetite failed me. I lost my usual force and vitality. Pepsin preparations and cathartics only made matters worse. I do not know where I should have been today had I not tried Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. The tablets relieve the ill feeling at once, strengthen the digestive functions, helping the system to do its work naturally.—Mrs. Rosa Potts, Birmingham, Ala. These tablets are for sale by all druggists.

In six Swiss colleges no fewer than 2,193 women are now studying. The majority of the enrolled female students are Russians. The women are most largely represented at Bern, where 486 are enrolled, almost all in the medical course. Lausanne has 399, Geneva 343, Zurich 276 and Basle fourteen.

A HOME MADE HAPPY BY CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY.

About two months ago our baby girl had measles which settled on her lungs and at last resulted in a severe attack of bronchitis. We had two doctors but no relief was obtained. Everybody thought she would die. I went to eight different stores to find a certain remedy which had been recommended to me and failed to get it, when one of the storekeepers insisted that I try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I did so and our baby is alive and well today.—Geo. W. Spence, Holly Springs, N. C. For sale by all druggists.

Of languages which so widely differ among themselves as to be incomprehensible without particular study the number readily exceeds 1,000.

For chapped and cracked hands nothing is quite as good as an application of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Put it on before going to bed, use an old pair of gloves and see what a difference the morning will bring. Sold by all druggists.

MAY TURN CRIMINALS LOOSE.

Mayor and Justices in Bucyrus, Ohio, Reach Fee Limit.

Bucyrus, Ohio, Dec. 25.—Mayor Valentine refuses to try state cases in the future. His decision has been reached by reason of the report filed by experts from the state bureau of accountants who claim that the mayor owes the county $124.60 because of excess fees in state cases.

The examiners say that the mayors of any city and each justice of the peace may not charge or collect from the county costs in state cases in excess of $100 in any single year. Mayor Valentine had collected costs to the amount of $224.60 for last year. He says that thus far this fees in state cases amount to about $190 and he will refuse to hear any state cases until the beginning of his new fiscal year.

As the justice courts here are about up to the limit of $100 prescribed by law it is possible the more flagrant criminals will have to be turned loose, as none of the local courts feel inclined to prosecute these cases at their own expense.

It is a mistake to use a violent cathartic to open the bowels. A gentle movement will accomplish the same results without causing distress or serious consequences later. DeWitt's Little Early Risers are recommended. Sold by all druggists.

"YOCK" ALLISON CAPTURED.

Man Who Committed Train and Bank Robberies Returned to Pen.

"Yock" Allison, a member of the Lake Shore gang who terrorized the section of country in Indiana through which that line runs, has been recaptured and returned to the penitentiary at Jackson, Mich. Two years ago Allison and Harry Slater escaped from prison and Allison reformed and married a girl at Auburn, Ind. They moved to Moline, Ill., where he secured employment at his trade in the printing department of the Deering Plow works. He has since been an honest, competent and conscientious employee of the company, enjoying the confidence and good will of the managers. Through a picture in the Moline's rogue gallery, a detective in that city recognized Allison, who was known there as Wilson, and caused his arrest and he was taken back to the penitentiary to complete a long term; having yet twelve years to serve. Although Allison and Slater had committed crimes on the railway and the country through which it runs, the crime for which they were sentenced to the penitentiary at Jackson was robbing a bank at Richland, Mich., seven or eight years ago. Harry Slater, as the readers of the Sentinel will remember, was killed by a policeman in Lima, Ohio, a year ago.

BOWSER AS SANTA CLAUS.

S. F. Bowser, president of the S. F. Bowser & Company, acted in the roll of Santa Claus to the employees of the company last evening. Before the close of working hours yesterday, the following notice was served on each: "The whistle will blow at 5 o'clock this evening, at which time you will find me in the tin shop."

SANTA CLAUS.

When the men responded to the notice, each was handed an envelope containing money, $2 for the married men and $1 for the single men. In former years Mr. Bowser gave the employees a turkey each, but the force has grown to the extent that this practice had to be abolished.

2 PASSENGER MEN PROMOTED.

General Passenger Agent Samuel Moody, of the Pennsylvania, announces the appointment of J. H. Modisette to the office of assistant general passenger agent of the lines west of Pittsburgh, with headquarters in Columbus, and names L. B. Freeman as Mr. Modisette's successor as passenger agent at Cleveland. The order announcing these changes also abolishes the offices of district passenger agent at Cleveland and Columbus. Mr. Modisette was for several years a traveling passenger agent in the Fort Wayne district.

RETURN FROM MEXICO.

Emil Deister, the inventor of the Deister concentrator and the head of the company engaged in the manufacture of the machinery, and E. J. O'Connell, a salesman for the company, returned from Mexico last night. They were very successful in the placing of concentrators in the mining districts of that country and brought many orders for machinery to be delivered later.

REMIT FINE AGAINST BRIBER.

Man With Large Family Freed From Court's Order by County Board.

Akron, O., Dec. 25.—The county commissioners have remitted the $500 fine imposed upon ex-Councilman Jerry Amundson when brought to trial some time ago charged with soliciting a bribe. At that time Amundson was also given a jail sentence, but this was suspended on condition that he pay the fine. Amundson has a large family to support and this was the principal reason of today's action.

YOUNG MAN WAS LED TO WEDDING ALTAR BY A PHOTO

South Bend Lover Found Woman's Likeness on Train; Weds Her.

South Bend, Ind., Dec. 25.—The culmination of a romance extending over five years was the marriage in South Bend of Walter E. Metz, of this city, to Elsie M. Edwards, of Berrien Springs, Mich.

The romance had its inception in the finding by Metz of a photograph which the girl had lost on the train between St. Joseph and South Bend. While walking through the car Metz picked up the picture with the intention of turning it over to the conductor. Looking at it a second time the young man's heart beat faster, for the face was the prettiest he had ever seen.

He inquired of the conductor concerning the passenger. Last May young Metz was in Berrien Springs and saw for the first time the original of the photograph. He was positive that the girl whom he met on the street and the girl in the picture were one and the same. The pair were introduced through mutual friends and it was not long before Miss Edwards was wearing an engagement ring.

WRONG MAN LYNCHED BY MOB THIRTY-ONE YEARS AGO

Deathbed Confession Made at Omaha Clears Victim's Name.

Omaha, Neb., Dec. 25.—It has just come to light that Carl Stierle, who thirty-odd years ago was taken out by a mob and lynched near Omaha for the murder of a young woman named Mary Topping, was innocent of the crime for which his life was taken.

The lynching of Stierle, one of many such tragedies that marked the early history of this region, had well-nigh been forgotten by men who lived here at the time when it was recalled to their minds by a letter to Chief of Police Donahue, of this city, from O. O. Stierle, of New Orleans, who says he is a son of the man who was lynched.

Confesses on His Deathbed. In this letter Stierle says that a man named Bright who died recently in the parish prison in New Orleans, confessed to him and to others that he, not Carl Stierle, murdered the Topping girl and should have been lynched by the mob for the crime.

O. O. Stierle knew that his father met his death in Nebraska back in the '70's, but he did not even suspect that he was charged with a murder and lynched by a mob until the dying man's confession revealed the shocking fact to him.

Bright said he had carried the secret of his guilt locked tight in his own breast from the time he committed the crime until he fell ill and learned that he could not recover his health. Realizing that death was near and that he would soon be called upon to face his Maker, he felt an irresistible impulse to call the son of Carl Stierle to his bedside and confess to him that he was guilty of the crime for which the father had paid the death penalty.

Mob Had Good Evidence.

The murder of Mary Topping was a coldblooded and atrocious one. The mob, composed of friends and neighbors of the girl and her parents, believed firmly that Stierle had committed the crime, the circumstantial evidence all being against him, and many of its members died ignorant of the awful mistake they had made. Stierle and Bright both lived near the murdered girl's home, but Bright was not even suspected of the murder.

Bright died a few hours after making the confession of his guilt. He was an old man and unmarried. Little is known of his antecedents or of his life, for he refused to talk about them. He said on his deathbed that he had but one desire and that was to tell the son of Carl Stierle that his father was wrongfully accused of murder and died at the hands of a western mob an innocent man.

How Diphtheria is Contracted.

One often hears the expression, "My child caught a severe cold which developed into diphtheria," when the truth was that the cold had simply left the little one particularly susceptible to the warding diphtheria germ. When Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given it quickly cures the cold and lessens the danger of diphtheria or any other germ disease being contracted. For sale by all druggists.

Mrs. Kernochan, of New

of Mother-in-Law.

New York, Dec. 25.—Bowling to the wishes of her mother-in-law, Mrs. James L. Kernochan broke an engagement which Mrs. Catherine L. Kernochan did not approve of. In recognition of her daughter-in-law's respect for her wishes the elder Mrs. Kernochan has now made her a Christmas gift of $150,000, the same as she is giving to her daughter, Mrs. Herbert C. Pell. In addition to the money, Mrs. Kernochan has also presented Mrs. Pell with a house at No. 205 Lexington avenue.

Mrs. James L. Kernochan, who was Miss Eloise Stevenson is the widow of the only son of Mrs. Catherine L. Kernochan. She is a member of the Meadow Brook Hunt club and is an accomplished horse woman. She has spent much of her time in the last two or three years with her mother-in-law and the two have always been much attached to each other.

Their attachment has been much closer since last March, when the younger woman broke an engagement of which her mother-in-law did not approve. The engagement in fact was not recognized by her at the time, and although there was never any evidence that it had in any way disturbed their pleasant relations it is an open secret that she was pleased when it was discontinued.

The Christmas present which Mrs. James L. Kernochan has received is a result of her decision not to wed.
